KILL SAN JOSE SCALE.

The State Entomologist Finds Con-Sol a Good Remedy.

Con-Sol a Good Remedy.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

BLACKSBURG, VA., March 22.—In response to ninnerous inquiries regarding the effectiveness of con-sol against the San Jose scale and the advisability of its use for that purpose, we desire to state that con-sol was given a thorough test last spring and a report prepared on the work. This report is now real—for distribution, and will be malled upon request to those who desire it.

In these tests con-sol proved to be worthless against the San Jose scale, when used at the strength recommended by the manufacturers. When diluided with twenty-four parts of water it had no approclable effect upon this insect, but when diluted with only four parts of water it made a wash about the strength of the lime-sulphur prepuration recommended by this office, and destroyed a large number of San Jose scale. The cost of a solution of the latter strength will be from ten to twenty cents per gallon, while the materials for preparing the lime-sulphur wash will cost only about one to one and one-half cents per gallon.
